GERMAN AUTHORITY SWEEPED FROM GREECE

The Pro-Ally Revolutionary Movement Gains Ground at All Points.

FOUR LINERS SEIZED

Martial Law Declared in Athens—King Constantine Is Ill.

By United Press.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The last vestige of German influence in Greece was crushed out by Allies today, while the Pro-Ally movement in Macedonia gained more converts.

Four German liners interned in the port of Piraeus and three Austrian ships have been seized by the Allies' warships.

Leaders of the Pro-German movement in Athens fled the Greek capital when Athens learned of the arrival of the Allied fleet only five miles from the capital.

Martial law has been declared in both Athens and Piraeus, says a wireless message from Rome, which also reports the Greek revolution spreading through Thessaly and Epirus.

King Constantine lies in the capital seriously ill.

Rumanians Sweep On.

By United Press.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Without serious opposition by the Austrians, Rumanian troops rolled steadily westward toward the heart of Transylvania today, while the war clouds dropped lower over Greece.

The capture of six Transylvanian towns, 18,000 prisoners and large amounts of booty was announced in an official statement tonight from the Rumanian war office.

The Austrian war office admitted the surrender of Hermannstadt to the invaders and the evacuation of several smaller towns.

German residents of Athens have fled from the Greek capital with the arrival of thirty Allied warships and a convoy of transports at Piraeus harbor, only five miles away.

An Athens dispatch reported that great excitement was caused in political circles by the appearance of the warships but carried nothing on the report that King Constantine had abdicated his throne.

A wireless dispatch from Rome asserted that martial law had been declared in Athens, presumably upon the arrival of the Allied troops. Rome also reported the revolution spreading, with the movement for a declaration of war by Greece rapidly gaining in strength.

In every theater of war, except south of the Somme, the Allied war offices reported victories today.

The British war office announced the recapture of ground lost under heavy German attacks Thursday night. The French admitted yielding some ground to the Germans south of the Somme.

From both Vienna and Petrograd came reports of Russian gains in the new Galician offensive.

Advancing on an 18-mile front against the important railway town of Halitz, the Russians have captured the village of Horonzanka, ten miles northwest of Halitz, in a resumption of the Galician offensive, Berlin admitted tonight.

The object of the new Russian drive is to prevent the diversion of Austro-German troops to the Rumanian frontier.

An official statement from the Austrian war office admitting slight withdrawals said that the Russians attacked a strong force on the Halitz front in the angle formed by the Dniester and Zlota rivers.

All other Russian attacks were beaten off, except at a few isolated places, the Austrian statement said.

Slavs Capture Heights.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 2.—The Russians have captured a series of heights near Koromezno in resumption of heavy fighting in the Carpathians.

Teutons Recapture Trenches.

By United Press.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—The Germans re-occupied a few lines of trenches captured by the French south of Estrees on August 31, in a very violent counter-attack south of the Somme last night, it was officially announced today.

The attack on the French lines followed a few hours of similar counter-

WILSON SCORES G.O.P. FOR ITS INACTIVITY

President, Accepting Renomination, Upholds Democratic Policy.

HELPS THE FARMERS

"I Will Face Any Criticism on My Mexican Policy," Says Wilson.

By United Press.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 2.—Twenty thousand persons, including Democratic leaders and the rank and file of the party, today heard and vociferously cheered President Wilson's speech formally accepting the renomination for the presidency. The President left tonight for Washington.

Tomorrow morning he plans to sign the eight-hour bill passed by the Senate and the House, and, with his signature, the last act will have been completed averting the threatened strike on the great railroads of the country.

By United Press.

LONG BEACH, N. J., Sept. 2.—President Wilson spoke for his renomination today. Before an immense crowd that pressed over the beautiful grounds of Shadow Lawn, the President accepted his re-nomination at the hands of the Democratic party, outlined the achievements of his administration and scored the Republicans as "a party of masterly inactivity, standing pat to resist change."

The Democratic party, the President said, holds to very definite ideals.

"We believe that the energy and initiative of our people should be set free as we have set them free and not concentrated in the hands of a few powerful guardians as our opponents have again and again sought to concentrate them," the President said.

"The day of little Americanism with its narrow horizon, when hotbeds of protection and industrial nursing were the chief studies of our provincial statesmen, is past and gone."

The people, the President said, would not reject those who have mutually served them for those who are making doubtful and conjectural promises of service.

Outlining the legislative record of his party, the President said that the Democrats have virtually created commercial credit for the farmer, had given a veritable emancipation to the workmen, had released the children of the country from "hurling labor" and, in addition to many other things, had put through national defense legislation greater than any ever seriously proposed upon the responsibility of an entire political party.

"And," he concluded in his discussion, "we have come very near to carrying out the platform of the Progressive party as well as our own, for we, also, are progressive."

"I neither seek the favor nor fear the displeasure of that small alien element amongst us which puts loyalty to any foreign power before loyalty to the United States," he said.

The President advanced his Mexican policy as an issue upon which he would stand in the face of any criticism. While admitting the possibility of a mistake "in this perplexing business," he flayed those who would have recognized the "unspeakable Huerta."

LONG BEACH, N. J., Sept. 2.—A record of "peace, prosperity and happiness" while the Old World struggled beneath a load of sorrow insured President Wilson's re-election in November, Senator Ollie N. James of Kentucky assured the President in formally notifying him of his nomination by the Democratic convention this afternoon.

James enumerated some of the accomplishments of the Wilson administration. The federal reserve act, he said, freed the country from the money gang, destroying at the same time the money trust and the panic trust.

Decision Reached at Meeting of Brotherhood Chairmen After Senate Passes Eight-Hour Bill by 43-28 Vote.

WILSON TO SIGN THE BILL TODAY

Amendments Introduced by Senator Norris Are Easily Defeated—A. B. Garretson Pleased by Wilson's Course.

BULLETIN

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The order for the National railroad strike on Monday was canceled tonight. The action followed the meeting of thirteen brotherhood chiefs after the Senate passed the eight-hour bill. The message was sent all over the country on endless chains of wires.

BULLETIN

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—"Railroads will accept under protest," said Hale Holden, president of the Burlington and spokesman for the executives, discussing Congress' action in passing the 8-hour bill and the Brotherhoods' action in calling off the strike. "We will take no hostile action, but will test the constitutionality of the law," said Holden.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The House eight-hour bill passed the Senate tonight by a vote of 43 to 28 killing in embryo the national transportation strike scheduled for tomorrow at 7 o'clock. The passing of the bill makes it positive that there will be no walk-out on the part of the employees.

The bill was taken to the House and signed by Speaker Clark at 6:08 p. m., returned to the Senate where Senator Clark of Arkansas, president pro tem, affixed his signature. Senator Reed of Missouri voted for the bill.

The final vote came after the Senate had overwhelmingly voted down several amendments and a substitute bill introduced at the last minute by Senator Norris.

The first amendment was Underwood's, giving the Interstate Commerce Commission power to fix rates and hours of labor. It was defeated, 14 to 52, party lines going to smash.

The next amendment was Newland's, making wilful delay or destruction of operation of trains a misdemeanor, punishable by a $500 fine or one year's imprisonment, or both. The vote was again 14 to 52.

A. B. Garretson and other big brotherhood men were just outside of the Senate chamber when the vote was taken. They announced that they would meet at 7 o'clock in the evening to determine when they would send out the notice cancelling the strike order.

Except for a little scattered oratory there was practically no debate over the bill.

At the opening of the session the gallery was crowded but as it became evident there would be no debate and that the bill would pass with practically no opposition, the gallery thinned out leaving only a few spectators. The meeting was cut and dried throughout.

It became known tonight that it would be impossible to get the bill to President Wilson at Shadow Lawn tonight in time for him to sign it tonight. The plan now is for Wilson to stop off at Washington tomorrow morning on his way to Kentucky and sign it then.

A. B. Garretson for the first time appeared at the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee room today. Garretson says he is well satisfied with the course of President Wilson and feels certain that the legislation will go through without any hitches and the strike be prevented.

Garretson says that when the bill is signed by the President the order to cancel the strike will be sent to the various chairmen and they in turn will forward it to all the men in their divisions.

Garretson says he is certain there
